NOTES

25X1

Arab States - Israel: UN special representative Jarring is returning to his headquarters in Nicosia to begin a new round of talks with the Israelis, Jordanians, and Egyptians next week. There is no evidence of any break in the long-standing deadlock, although all sides appear to want the Jarring mission to continue. Jordanian officials are particularly gloomy and pessimistic, and the semiofficial Israeli press foresees a stalemate in the efforts to achieve a peace settlement until after the new US administration has taken office.
